

Heisse Johnson Hand Up Program

What is the Hand Up Program?

The Heisse Johnson Hand Up Program, formerly the Heisse Johnson Keeping Warm Program, provides you an opportunity to help others. Through the Heisse Johnson Hand Up Program, we invite our customers to contribute a minimum of $1.00 each month in addition to paying their monthly energy bills. Heisse Johnson Hand Up Program funds are collected by JCPB and distributed by the Good Samaritan Ministries and Salvation Army to individuals who need financial assistance for their energy bills.

History:

Originally named the Heisse Johnson Keeping Warm Fund, the Heisse Johnson Hand Up Program has been providing assistance to individuals in need of financial help with their energy bills since 1989. The program was a result of the vision of Rev. Dr. Heisse Johnson and many other dedicated individuals who had a passion for helping others. Rev. Dr. Johnson worked diligently to coordinate a partnership between Johnson City Power Board, Atmos Energy, City ministers, Good Samaritan Ministries, and the Salvation Army. These agencies work closely to avoid duplication of services and to ensure the system is not abused. All funds collected will go directly to the Heisse Johnson Hand Up Program to be re-distributed via Good Samaritan Ministries and the Salvation Army.

Each dollar you contribute will be matched by an additional dollar, doubling the benefit for our community.

If you would like to make a one-time donation, please make checks payable to the Heisse Johnson Hand Up Program and mail to: Hand Up Program, 926 W Oakland Avenue, #214, Johnson City, TN 37601.

“If all of the Johnson City Power Board’s residential customers committed to adding $1.00 per month to their power bill, it would make a tremendous difference in the lives of so many that are struggling to pay their bills. Thank you in advance for touching the lives of so many in our area.”
